New Women's Fashion Accessory Is a Stylish Solution to Long Pants that Drag

BOSTON, MA (June 2010) Jenny Clip, a new, easy-to-wear, fashion accessory that provides a stylish solution to women's dragging pants problem will debut at Accessories The Show on August 1-3 at the Javits Center. The Jenny Clip Collection is the brainchild of Jennifer Weldon, who was frustrated by not being able to wear her long pants with flats without damaging or even ruining her pants.

"I was tired of dragging my favorite long pants through puddles, snow and dirty summer sidewalks. Cuffing looked sloppy and hemming meant I could no longer wear my pants with heels. I designed Jenny Clips to be a beautiful, useful and affordable solution to a problem every women faces," says Jennifer Weldon, founder and CEO of Jenny Clip Corporation.

Retailing at $24.95 a pair, Jenny Clips allow women of all ages to wear high-heel pants with flats while preventing dragging, fraying and tearing. To use, simply clip the Jenny Clip to the back of your pants at the lower calf level to create your desired length and you're ready to hit the streets.

I designed Jenny Clips to be a beautiful, useful and affordable solution to a problem every woman faces," says Jennifer Weldon, founder and CEO of Jenny Clip

The Jenny Clip Collection includes a variety of styles to suit any mood or outfit. The clips are adorned with charms and rhinestones with styles including Hearts, Martini Glasses, Fleur-de-Lis, Skull and Crossbones, Peace Signs and many more.
